

Privacy Statement

A Kid Again respects your privacy. We will only collect, store and use your personal information for specific defined purposes. We use your information to enhance our relationship directly with you, as well as make you aware of current and future events or fundraising campaigns. We do not sell your personal information or share your information with other companies, organizations, non-profits or other individual entities. At any time you may contact A Kid Again with any privacy questions or concerns you may have. You also may ask at any time to see the data you have given us and request correction or deletion. Our goal is to ensure the highest level of security and confidentiality.

In addition to personal contact information, we ask for billing information, such as your billing address and credit card number, when you make a donation. We use secure PCI compliant servers to process this information, hosted by a third party provider. Your billing information is not shared with any other organizations, and your credit card number is not retained once your transaction has been authorized and processed.

In some cases, you may supply contact information for people other than yourself, for example, email addresses of friends or family to whom you wish to have us notify of a donation you have made, or to whom you would like to notify of a fundraising event. This information is not shared or sold to other companies, organizations, non-profits or other individual entities.

At A Kid Again, your right to privacy and data security is a primary concern. When you visit akidagain.org, we help you maintain control over your personal data on the internet by adhering to our established privacy guidelines.
